

C9C – VETERINARY TECHNOLOGY

OCTOBER 22, 2001

Title/Class Code	Education/Experience/Licensure/Certification	Substitutions
VETERINARY TECH I C9C1TX	Graduation from an accredited college or university with an associate's degree as a veterinary/animal health technician and one year of experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery.	College coursework in a field of study related to the work assignment may substitute for the year of general experience.
VETERINARY TECH II C9C2XX	Graduation from an accredited college or university with an associate's degree in veterinary/animal health technology and two years of experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery.	A combination of work experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery, which provided the same kind, amount and level of knowledge acquired in the required education may substitute for the associate's degree.
VETERINARY TECH III C9C3XX	Graduation from an accredited college or university with an associate's degree in veterinary/animal health technology and three years of experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery	A combination of work experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery, which provided the same kind, amount and level of knowledge acquired in the required education may substitute basis for the associate's degree.
VETERINARY TECH IV C9C4XX	Graduation from an accredited college or university with an associate's degree in veterinary/animal health technology and four years of experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery	A combination of work experience assisting in animal surgery, administering anesthesia to animals and/or performing veterinary surgery, which provided the same kind, amount and level of knowledge acquired in the required education may substitute for the associate's degree.